Senior Prophecy

I walked up the fading white steps and entered the building. There in front of me was Major Hinson. He was talking to Lt. Col. Neuman — "I don't like it at all, you hear, at all! Keep people out of this foyer!" Seeing that the major was busy, I headed back toward the publications room. There coming out of the Faculty Lounge was Jim Delaney. "Hey, Jim," I called Hardly had the words been spoken when I was hit on the back of my head with a blunt instrument. I turned and there stood Major Hinson exclaiming something about being quiet in the hall. After several apologies, a "how are you", and a "good-bye", I went seeking Delaney. I found him in the Cadet Store. "Hi Jim, what in the world are you doing here?"

"Oh, I was just trying to sell the basketball coach some insurance, what about yourself?"

"I'm just looking around," I replied, "it's been quite a while since I was last here — five years, I believe." I went over to the drink machine and as I started to drop a dime in the slot a big, slow moving man in green overalls knocked me into the wall. "Move bud, I gotta fix dis here machine." I looked around and saw the man's back. There in neat letters was the name: GLASS'S VENDORS. "Glass," I thought, "no it couldn't be" My thoughts were interrupted when the man turned around and hit me in the shins with his tool box. Yes, it was Copley! We said hello and sat down with Delaney. After discussing how each of us was doing, we started talking about our old classmates. "What ever became of Butler," Glass asked. "Oh," I replied, "after studying taxidermy at W and L for two years, he and Mr. Purdue went to Afghanistan to hunt Gnu and they have been there ever since. Say, what about Rhinehart?"

"Er, I think he is still at the Institute for Advanced Study. He is working on some new type of Nuclear Reactor," said Jim. About that time a fat, damp faced little man with a note pad in his hand and a press card in his hat came walking in and proceeded to buy a soft drink. "Grover Jackson!" exclaimed Glass, "come sit down and tell us about yourself."

"Oh, I'm the U. S. Correspondent for the Nippon News and" He was interrupted by a lot of little voices yelling, "Coach Lyons, Coach Lyons, tell us that story again, huh." Through the windows we saw the coach take some faded yellow press clippings from his pocket "There I am," we could hear, "All American First and ten on our own twenty yard line I call for a pass"

Back to our conversation. I learned that Ladd had graduated Magna Cum Laude from the Mobile County Trade School — his specialty, spot welding. St. George was designing model boat hulls for a toy company and Boykin was studying speech control at Oxford.

After we had talked for about an hour, a mob of seniors came running in having a rubber band battle, so we said good-bye to each other and started off on our individual ways. As I stepped out in the street I walked in front of a great red sports car driven by none other than Norman Cox.

The ambulance roared off, leaving a strip of rubber about twenty-five feet long. The jolt was familiar. Then an even more familiar nausea swept over me as we careened over a curb, just missing a parked watermelon truck. Rose stuck his head out of the truck and yelled at our driver to slow down. I exerted all my remaining energy to turn my head up front so that I could see who was driving. It was Fink — I just shut my eyes. About halfway to the hospital I peeked out of the back window and saw a large black car which seemed to be chasing the ambulance. As we turned a corner I could read what was written on the door of the car; it read, "Jones, Robinson, Slaton, Moore, and Moore — Attorneys at Law."

As Fink and Torbert were carrying me into the hospital, Leon stopped to unwrap his peppermint stick, and he spilled me off the stretcher onto the street. I passed out.

As they rolled me out of the operating room toward my room, a nurse ran by me screaming, "But Mr. Shoemaker, you're supposed to have a broken back!" This was followed by the pad of bare feet across the corridor. I caught sight of a flying bedsheet.

The other bed in my room was occupied by a man who was all banaged up. Just to make conversation, I asked him what had happened to him. I received a faint reply, "My home lab blew up."

"Oh," I said. "Sounds like someone I used to go to school with." About that time, the poor fellow rolled over. Sure enough, it was he. His eyes were full of tears. I later learned that he had melted some iron, which got into an explosive mixture of $C^3H^5(OH)^3$ and HNO^3 .

During the next couple of weeks I learned that Malone was catching for the Yankees (The Pusan, Korea Yankees), Charlie Smith was the Green Bay Packers' star blocking dummy (it moves, it talks). Gregory was playing forward for the Johannesburg Jungle Men, and Brewer was working for General Electric (he coaches the womans basketball team).

After a while they released me. I walked out of the hospital and boarded the now one-year-old Mona-Rail. The car swished away from the platform and settled to the ground with a crunching sound. It seems that because of faulty design, the whole structure had collapsed. While I was waiting to be freed from the wreckage, I considered asking for my dime back but I decided that the owner must have enough troubles now. When they got me out I was greeted by an irate little man who was jumping up and down and yelling something about sueing the contracting firm of Knodel and Savell. I noticed that he looked like my old classmate, Marshall Wallace. I tried to speak to him but I was shoved away, unrecognized. I walked away and about a block later I was sprayed all over with a jet of icy water. I looked up and saw David Ellisor atop a street sweeper. "Sorry old man," he said, as he drove off to spray other unwary pedestrians. I looked down the street and saw a glowing sign: "IRWIN'S JEWELRY SHOP. I walked in and before I knew what was happening Irwin had climbed over the counter, grabbed my arm, applied a hammerlock, and proceeded to try to sell me a diamond stick pin. While he held me down, he called his two little boys from the back of the shop, and together, they went through my pockets. When the boys found nothing, one of the little beasts started kicking me in the shins — "Cheapskate," he cried! About that time Irwin recognized me, pulled the kids off, and invited me to sit down. I struggled to my feet and fell into a chair. The chair collapsed — I lay there. "Gee, I'm sorry," said Irwin. "Here, get up."

"No thanks," I replied, "I'll just lie here." We struck up a conversation and Irwin told me that John Harris was a drill instructor at Parris Island and that John Henley was aboard ship somewhere in Alaskan waters. It seems that Bill Myers was married and working as a day laborer at Radcliff Gravel Co.

I left Irwin and walked into the book store next door, which, to my surprise, was run by Onie Barrett. Onie asked me if I had read Tom Stevens' latest paper back. I replied that I had not, so he looked around warily and pulled the novel from under the counter. The cover of the book was adorned with a girl in a low cut white dress. I plunked down 75¢, tucked the book in my pocket, and headed for the dock. Five minutes after I was back on board, the old tramp steamer sailed, and I was on my way back to my missionary work, teaching plastic surgery to the Ubangies.

The University Military School eleven opened its 1957 season with an impressive 25-6 victory over the Semmes High Bulldogs at Ladd Memorial Stadium.

Roy Shoemaker, the captain of the squad, tallied three touchdowns in the first half to quickly put the Cadets ahead to stay. The fourth Cadet TD came with less than six minutes left in the first half, when Warren Reilly intercepted a Semmes aerial and went 32 yards for the score.

Shoemaker's first scoring effort came on an eight yard smash over left tackle. Minutes later he dashed 66 yards with a Semmes punt for the Cadets' second TD. A Nat Harris to Shoemaker pass clicked early in the second quarter and after Charlie Smith converted, the Soldiers led 19-0.

Semmes finally reached pay dirt early in the fourth quarter when Wayne Brady scored on a one-yard sweep.

The second half was dominated by Semmes when the UMS reserves took over.

Smith, Billy Lyons, and John Harris all stood out on defense for the Cadets.

Desperate lunge.

The University Military School eleven saw their hopes for an undefeated season go by the boards as the Murphy Panthers scored an 18-12 victory over the Cadets.

Murphy scored first in the opening period after an exchange of fumbles which saw the Panthers take over on the Soldier 41. Tommy Ezell capped the Murphy drive with a one-yard sweep around end. An attempted run for the extra point failed.

The Soldiers battled back to even the score when Roy Shoemaker, who sparked the Cadet offense all night, scored on a 10 yard end run. David Ellisor missed a plunge for the extra point.

A recovered fumble by end Billy Potts gave the Soldiers a golden chance to score but they failed to do so when the half ended with the ball inside the one yard line.

Murphy scored in the third quarter when Ezell returned a UMS punt to the Cadet 27. The Panthers moved to the 19 and then Kenny Winter passed to David Stephens for what appeared to be a touchdown, but the play was nullified by a penalty. On the next play, however, Winter found Jimmy Dill in the end zone for the touchdown. Once again the try for the extra point was unsuccessful.

The last Murphy score came on a 39-yard run by Eddie Mitchell. The try for the point after touchdown was not good.

The Cadets tried to come back and were able to score again in the last quarter when Ellisor picked up a first down on the Panther one. Shoemaker plunged the final yard for the TD with about three minutes left. Charlie Smith's attempted conversoin was blocked.

Murphy took the following kickoff and used ball control to eat up the remaining time.

After a listless first half, the Cadets of UMS came alive in the second half to defeat a stubborn Foley High team 27-13 in a game witnessed by 1,401 spectators at Ladd Stadium.

Two breaks were instrumental in the Cadets' third period TD, one being a fine piece of defensive work by Charles Bunkley who tackled a Foley back on fourth down deep in Foley territory. After two plays which moved the ball but two yards, Foley was penalized 15 yards to the 15 and the Cadets moved on to the touchdown that tied the score with Warren Reilly going over from nine yards out.

The Soldiers tallied twice more in the last period to wrap up the contest. David Ellisor scored the Cadets' third TD on a 3-yard smash, and Reilly ended the scoring for the night with a one-yard sweep.

Charlie Smith converted after three of the touchdowns.

Foley scored first when Nate Graham, Foley back, brought a UMS punt back 50 yards to start a scoring march for the Baldwin County club. Phil McKenzie scored from six yards out and the try for the extra point was good.

UMS came back to score immediately, going 63 yards in nine plays. A Nat Harris to Roy Shoemaker pass in the end zone was called back because of a penalty, but the Soldiers, not to be denied, moved to the 25 on another Harris-Shoemaker pass and with Reilly and Ellisor carrying the load, moved to the one where Ellisor plunged into the end zone for the score.

Foley scored in the second quarter when McKenzie went 26 yards for the TD, the extra point was good and Foley led 13-7 until Reilly scored in the third period to put UMS back into the ball game.

Upended.

The Cadets scored their third win of the season at the expense of Ozark High in a 14-6 game played at Ozark, Ala. The game, originally scheduled for Friday, October 4, was postponed until the next day when the officials scheduled to work the game failed to make an appearance.

Ozark scored first in the first period on an 82-yard reverse. The try for the extra point failed.

The Cadets bounced back to score twice in the second quarter with Roy Shoemaker capping a 70-yard march with a 3-yard scoring run. The other tally came when Warren Reilly broke off tackle and went 50 yards to score. Charlie Smith converted after both scores.

Leon Torbert, Charles Bunkley, and Smith stood out on defense for the Cadets. The Soldiers season record now stands at three wins and one setback.

UMS scored its fourth win of the season at the expense of the Tate High team of Gonzalez, Fla., by a score of 20-12. The game was played at Cantonment, Fla.

The Cadet scoring was led by halfback Ray Malone, who scored on runs of 13 and 26 yards. He also set up the third Soldier TD with a dazzling 40-yard gallop.

Robert Blair and Charlie Butler scored for Tate. The extra point attempts after both touchdowns failed.

UMS tallied again in the fourth period when a series of plays carried the ball to the Tate one and David Ellisor smashed across for the TD.

Charlie Smith missed the first conversion attempt but booted the other two successfully.

Jim Brewer and Gin Taylor led the Cadet defensive effort.

Slippery when wet.

Vigor High of Prichard handed UMS its second loss of the season by the score of 20-6. The game was played at Ladd Stadium before 4,888 spectators.

The Wolves scored twice early in the opening period and then held on to pick up the win. Billy Coleman, Vigor quarterback, completed a pass to end Bubba Todd good for 16 yards and a touchdown. Horace Seelye converted after the touchdown to put Vigor ahead 7-0. Four minutes later, Keith Hogencamp, Vigor's fullback went over his own left side of the line and raced down the sideline for the touchdown. Seelye missed after the second tally and Vigor led 13-0.

The third period was scoreless with UMS making the serious threat, a drive which ended at the Vigor nine yard line.

Vigor's last touchdown came on a one yard sneak by Coleman. Mack Williams kicked the extra point and ended Vigor's scoring for the night.

UMS came back to score a touchdown in the last period. The first came when Gin Taylor took a pitchout from Nat Harris and went four yards around end for the score. A combination of Harris to Billy Lyons passes and penalties against Vigor had brought the ball to the Vigor four and then Taylor sped around end for the score. Ray Malone's attempted conversion was wide and the score was Vigor 20, UMS 6. The Cadet TD finished the game's scoring.

UMS was playing the game without the services of two halfbacks, captain Roy Shoemaker and junior Warren Reilly, who were both out with injuries.

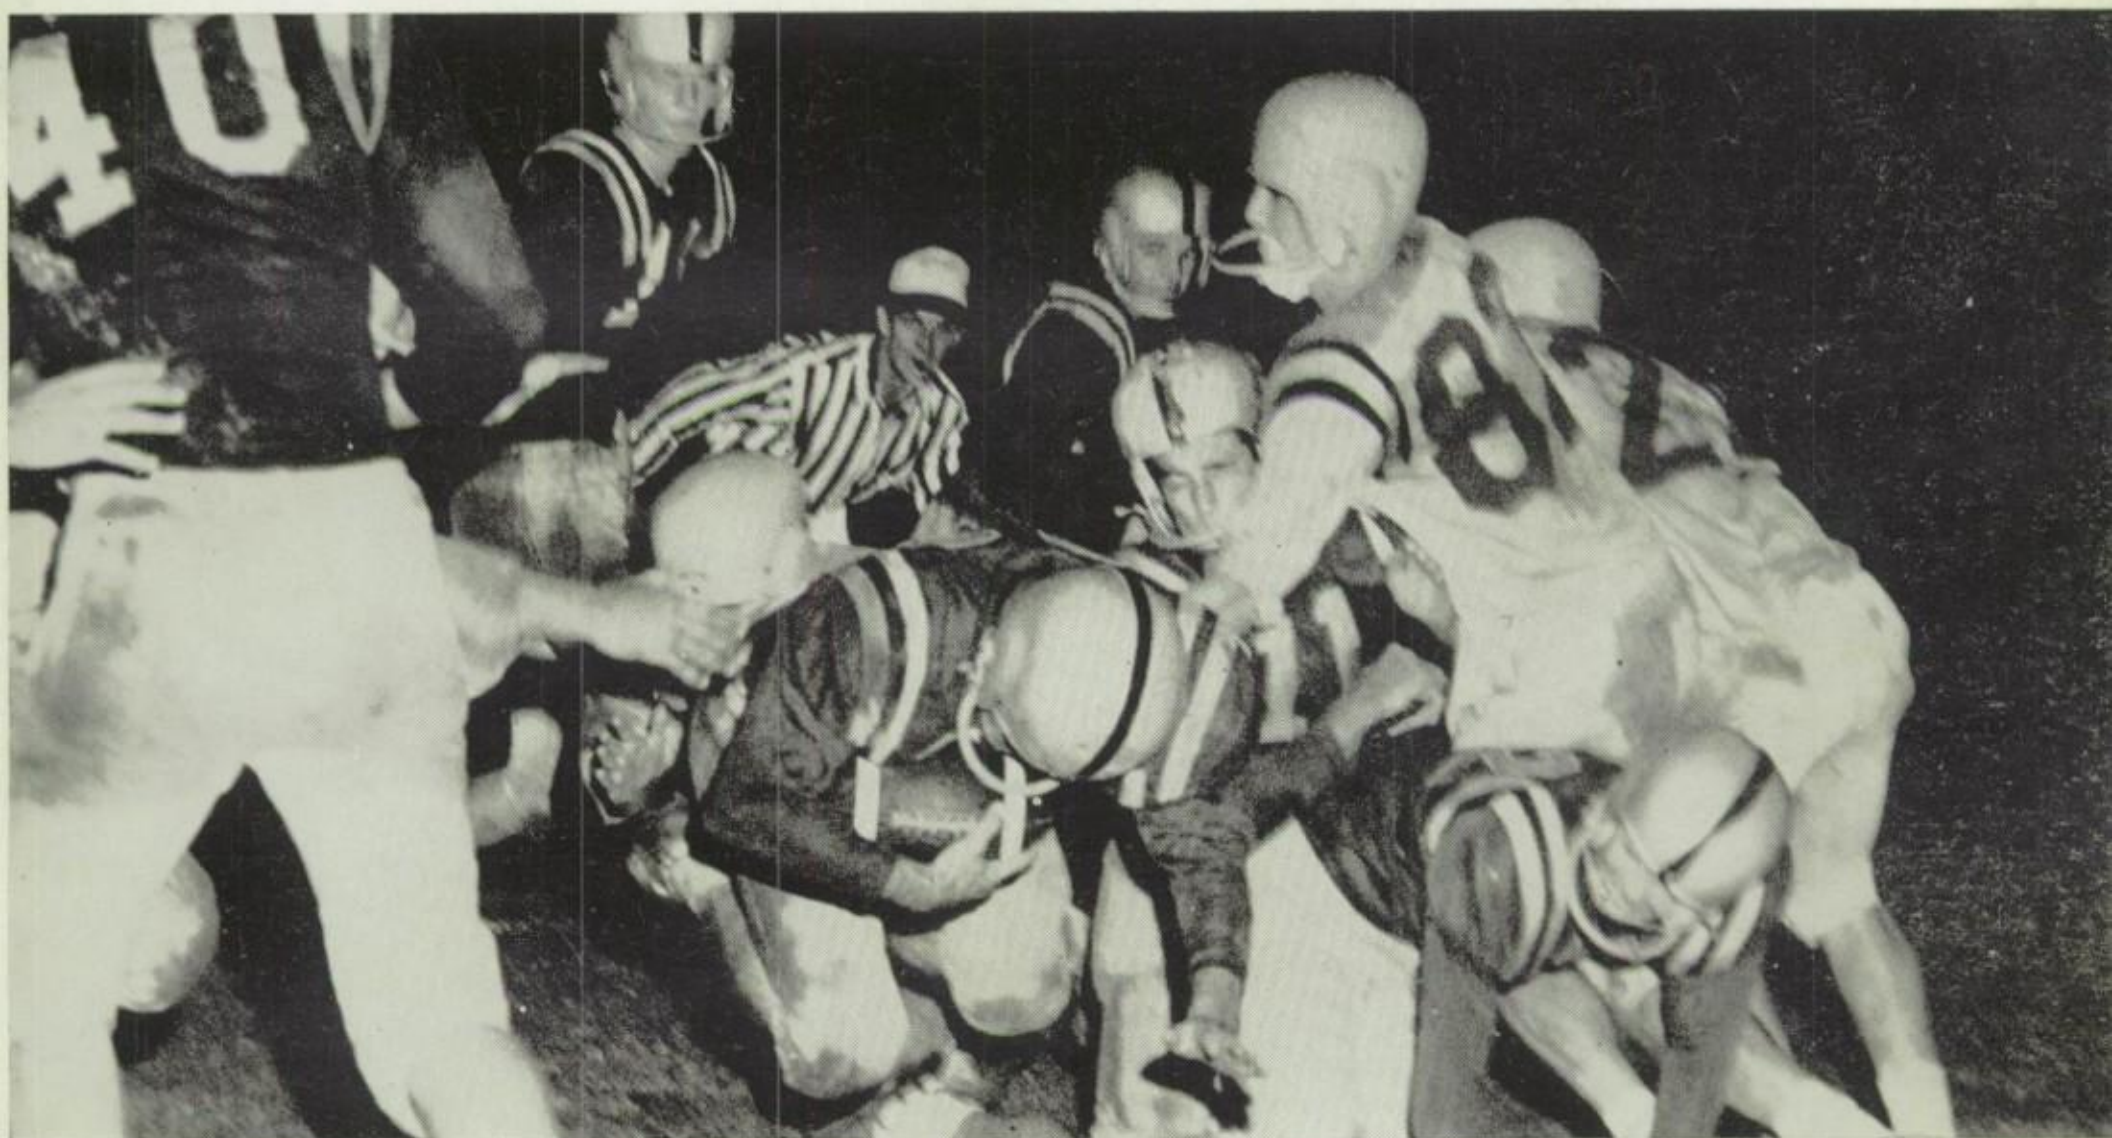

The University Military School Soldiers scored twice in the last half to defeat a tough Fairhope High team 14-7. After the two teams battled through a scoreless first half, Billy Calloway, Fairhope tailback went 81 yards to score and put the Buccaneers ahead. Hamilton converted and Fairhope led the Cadets 7-0.

UMS's first TD came on a 26-yard pass-run play from quarterback Nat Harris to end Billy Lyons. Lyons caught the ball on the thirteen and ran the rest of the way for the score. Charlie Smith kicked the extra point to tie the score 7-7.

A short Fairhope punt left the ball on the Pirate 23. Lyons tried an end-around pass that missed the target and on the next play the Soldiers surprised the Fairhope defense by trying the same play. This time Lyons elected to run and moved the ball to the 11. Roy Shoemaker, who sat most of the game because of a knee injury, came off the bench and gathered in the remaining yardage for the touchdown. Smith again converted and the Bulldogs were ahead to stay.

UMS threatened again in the closing minutes only to have the clock catch up with them.

David Ellisor and Leon Torbert led the Cadets on defense.

Ellisor scores.

UMS absorbed its third loss of the season when it dropped a free-scoring 38-19 game to the Pascagoula Panthers.

Pascagoula scored twice in the first half, the second TD being the result of a bitterly disputed play just as the half ended. When the horn sounded for the end of the first half, the UMS defensive team began to trot off the field. Meanwhile, the Panther quarterback faded back and threw to one of his ends for the score.

Nat Harris connected on a pass to Billy Lyons and the Cadets had their first score of the game. The play covered about 50 yards. Charlie Smith's attempted conversion missed and the score at the half was 13-6.

Pascagoula sewed up the game in the second half when they scored four times.

Roy Shoemaker tallied UMS' second TD when he went six yards around right end. Lyons scored the third Cadet touchdown on a pass from Harris which covered about five yards. Smith made one of the two extra point tries to give UMS its other point.

The final score was Pascagoula 38, UMS 19.

Shoemaker goofs.

The University Military School Cadets rose to the occasion and scored their first intra-city win in three years with a fine 28-7 victory over the McGill Yellow Jackets.

Nat Harris passed for three TD's and Roy Shoemaker scored the other touchdown on a 13-yard run around end.

The first quarter was scoreless and neither team threatened seriously in the second period until Billy Lyons took in a Harris pass on the McGill 15 and ran the rest of the way with the aid of a fine block by Doc Williams. Charlie Smith converted and put the Soldiers ahead 7-0.

The first half ended shortly after the TD and the Homecoming Queen and her court were presented in a colorful half time ceremony.

The Cadets came back after the intermission and struck for two quick touchdowns in the third quarter. Shoemaker took in a pass in the end zone from Harris on fourth down with goal to go on the McGill 22. The extra point try was good and UMS led 14-0.

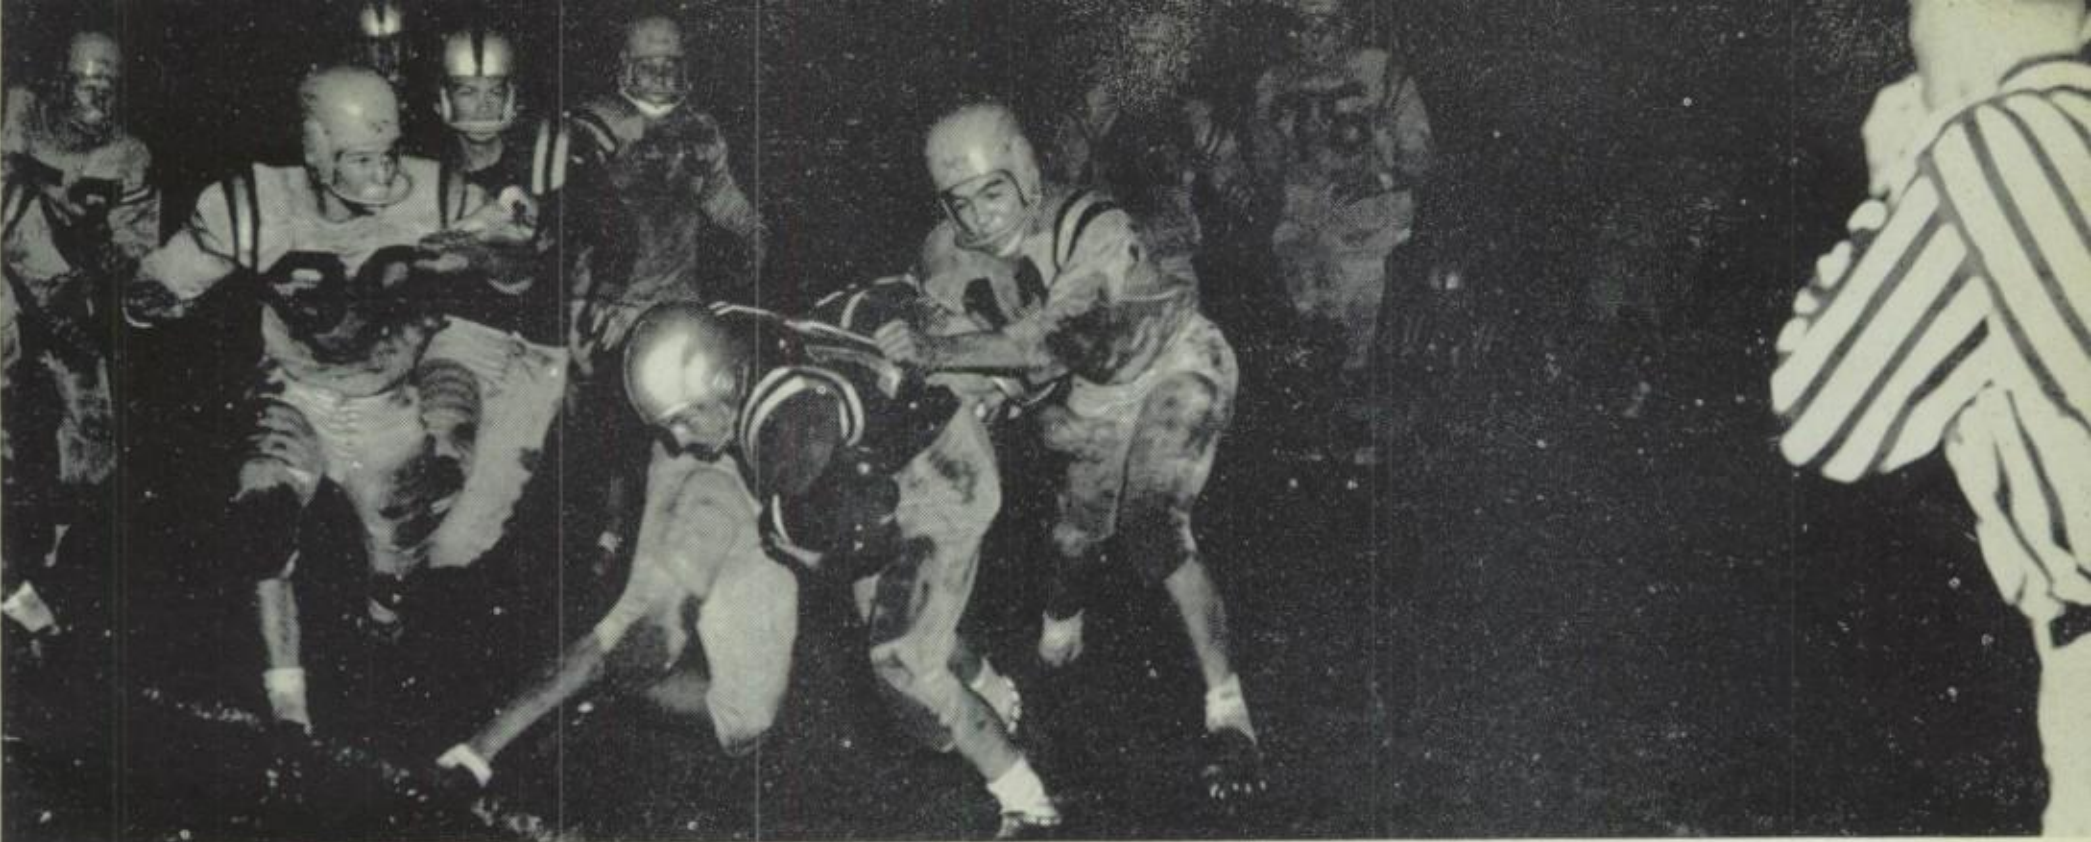

The next UMS TD was set up when Harris intercepted a Jacket pass on the McGill nineteen. Ray Malone lugged the ball to the 17, David Ellisor to the 13 and on the next play Shoemaker went around end for the remaining thirteen yards and the touchdown. Smith's conversion split the uprights and UMS now owned a 21 point lead.

UMS' last tally came after a combination of Shoemaker's running and a pass from Harris to Warren Reilly good for nine yards had put the ball on the McGill 17. Harris found Shoemaker all alone on about the ten yard line and the fleet halfback took in the pass and went the rest of the way for the final TD. Smith converted for the last UMS point of the night.

The entire UMS defensive unit came up with one of its finest efforts of the year.

"I'm in danger!"

"Mouse" in a trap.

The University Military School football team ended a highly successful season with a thrilling 7-6 victory over the Bay High Tornadoes of Panama City, Fla. The contest was originally carded for October 11 but was put off because of outbreaks of flu on both teams.

The decision allowed the Cadets to finish the 1957 season with a record of seven wins and three losses, the best record of any UMS team in recent years. The win was perhaps the best going-away present that the team could have given Coach R. E. Hanks, who finished his last season as a football coach at UMS with the Bay High game.

The first quarters were scoreless but Bay High broke the scoring ice in the final period when they went about 70 yards with the left halfback applying the final thrust on a one yard plunge. Charlie Smith provided what proved to be the difference in the final score when he broke through and blocked the extra point attempt.

The Soldiers came right back and rolled 86 yards with Roy Shoemaker picking up most of the yardage on the ground. The scoring march was capped when quarterback Nat Harris passed to Doe Williams who made a fine catch in the end zone. The play was good for 35 yards. Smith booted the winning extra point with about five minutes left to put the Soldiers ahead o stay.

Bay High put together a sustained drive which carried to the UMS 25 before great line play by the UMS forward wall stopped the drive.

This game represented the finest defensive effort of the year for the Cadets.

"What about it?" said Myers.

We of the CADET staff would like to express our appreciation to everyone who helped make this book possible: To the FACULTY of U.M.S., for their complete cooperation; to MAJOR DANIEL NOLAN, our faculty advisor and helper; to the KEY CLUB of U.M.S., for their help in soliciting advertisers; to THE MOBILE PRESS REGISTER and THIGPEN PHOTOGRAPHY, for the use of several of their photographs; and to the personnel at GULF STATES ENGRAVING COMPANY as well as GILL PRINTING COMPANY, for their technical assistance.

ADVERTISING SECTION

TO THE CORPS:

THIS IS YOUR CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING SECTION, A GUIDE TO BETTER BUYING AND SERVICE IN MOBILE. We strongly urge you to patronize these merchants, for it is their cooperation which has made this CADET possible. Your cooperation with them will insure a larger and better publication for us in succeeding years.

Thank you.
